

NATIONAL LEADER IN MEDICAL-LEGAL CONSULTING

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

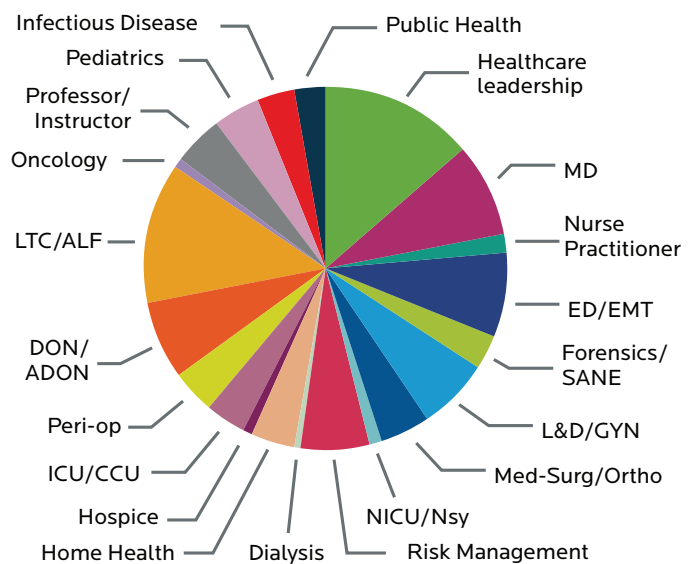

“Med Law’s reports are of the highest quality and exactly what I need to aggressively manage risk in potential claims. Their in-depth clinical analysis helps tee up our outside counsel, allowing them to stay focused on the legal aspects of the matter—which helps me better manage litigation expenses.”

– P. Smith, Legal Services Manager, Transitional and Skilled Nursing Care Centers

MED LAW ADVISORY PARTNERS (formerly ALN Consulting) provides resources and expertise in the areas of health care litigation and health systems improvement. As facilities and practices experience challenges such as COVID-19 claims, safe opioid prescribing, patient safety outcomes, and broader health systems failures, Med Law provides the clinical expertise necessary to mitigate risk and manage medical-legal claims. Our services enable our clients to stop wasting time and resources on expensive medical record “summaries” that, in the end, do not help inform litigation strategy. Med Law consultants use data-driven processes, standards of care, and clinical judgment to identify the issues that truly matter and help our clients determine the best strategy to defend the claim.

Med Law Advisory Partners’ team has had the privilege of working with national and regional healthcare systems, legal firms, insurers, and senior-living operators for nearly 20 years, providing medical-legal case investigation. The data and trends identified through our claims reviews also provide a wealth of intelligence into an organization’s clinical operations. These valuable insights allow Med Law to guide healthcare leaders toward long-term operational enhancements through a strategic, upstream approach that integrates insights with their quality and patient safety agenda.
